

Twenty-one senior members of Les Jeunes Amies de la Symphonie will be presented during the Baton Rouge Symphony League's Bal de la Symphonie on December 16 at the Crowne Plaza. The young women were the guests of honor on August 27 at the Baton Rouge Symphony League's Fall luncheon at the Baton Rouge Country Club.

Les Jeunes Amies is a service organization of girls who are the daughters and granddaughters of members of the Baton Rouge Symphony League. During their four years in high school, these young women perform volunteer service benefiting the Baton Rouge Symphony Orchestra and the Louisiana Youth Orchestra. This group has also promoted the league's mission of fostering music education through various projects including Symphony on the Geaux and the Christmas Ornament Workshop. Prior to her presentation, each girl will have devoted at least seventy hours to volunteering and activities with the Baton Rouge Symphony League's Les Jeunes Amies Program.

The young ladies to be presented are: Macie Victoria D'Angelo, Kathleen Caroline Grassmann, Emma Grace Gremillion, Katie Ruth Henry, Emily Catherine Kelleher, Julia Marielle LeBlanc, Lilly Yvonne Manson, Mary Katherine Mathews, Mackenzie Ann Morel, Lauren Elizabeth Pearson, Ellis Anne Pierce, Ryann Elizabeth Richard, Audrey Anne Rothkamm, Julia Presley Serpas, Julia Patience Shaffer, Riley Nicole St. Amant, Kate Michael Stockstill, Ainsley Grace Thibodeaux, Caroline Pierson Tullier, Olivia Catherine VanHook, and Charlotte Renee Waguespack.
